Study on Discrimination / Exclusion in State Relief

Executive Summary

People's Watch – Tamil Nadu conducted a Study on Discrimination / Exclusion in State Relief to identify those who have been discriminated against or suffered from exclusion in state relief in nine Tsunami-affected districts.

The report reviews the methodology used, presents the results of the study including a complete list of names of those discriminated or excluded from relief, continues with a consolidated discussion of the overall findings, and concludes with a list of recommendations.

This study identified a total of 7,797 people who were affected by the Tsunami and eligible for relief, but discriminated against or excluded from relief. As not all districts participated in this study and specific names were not available for all districts it is estimated that there are many more people who are eligible for relief but have been discriminated or excluded. The highest number of people who did not receive relief was identified in Kancheepuram, while the most common basis for discrimination or exclusion was caste.

Peoples Watch would like to call upon the Government to respond to this study with the appropriate respect and urgency. The Tsunami tragedy has affected the lives of thousands in the state of Tamil Nadu, and all people affected deserve to be treated equally regardless of caste, religion, occupation, or any other basis for discrimination or exclusion. Peoples Watch believes that the inclusion in state relief of all those listed in this report is not only the Government's responsibility but also its obligation to the people.

Information was gathered from a range of sources: Tsunami-affected residents, village leaders, administrators, community organizations, etc. The availability of these sources varied among villages and districts, and as such will be addressed specifically in each zone. However every effort was made to obtain information from both primary and secondary sources (i.e. victims and relief administrators respectively), and compare the information between the sources to verify and validate the data. In addition to these name lists, the survey teams conducted conversations with community members and leaders, and recorded their observations and recommendations.

Once the field work was completed and the survey teams returned to the office, all data were entered into the computer by zone and district, and based on the relief that was not received. The complete listing of those discriminated against or excluded from relief can be found in the Appendix, while a summary is available in the body of this report. Additional information such as the type of discrimination observed, problems that arose in the field, etc. have also been incorporated in the body of this report.

Results by Zone

Chennai

Twenty-five Tsunami-affected villages were identified by PWTN in Chennai, while 43 villages were identified in Thiruvallur and in Kancheepuram. Eighteen of the 25 villages were surveyed in Chennai (72% coverage), 31 of the 43 were surveyed in Thiruvallur (72% coverage), and 23 of the 43 were surveyed in Kancheepuram (53% coverage).

Although the survey team noted that at times the Government provided the complete compensation and relief package to the victims without discrimination in the distribution of relief material or allocation of temporary shelters, they also noted that this was not always the case. The survey team recorded discrimination and exclusion in 13 of the 18 surveyed villages in Chennai (72%), and in 10 of the 31 surveyed villages in Thiruvallur (32%). The basis for discrimination and exclusion in Chennai was due to political affiliation, whereas the basis in Thiruvallur varied among caste, age (old age), personal status (widow), physical or mental disability, economic status, and politics (affiliation with political party). Unfortunately the basis for discrimination was not provided in Kancheepuram.

In Chennai 131 families, 126 widows, and 5 injured or handicapped people were eligible for relief funds but did not receive them. In addition 68 eligible students did not receive notebooks and other aid. The numbers in Kancheepuram are especially staggering: 3,128 families eligible for relief (for the most part Rs.2,000-4,000) did not receive any funds. In addition, 491 eligible students did not receive notebooks and other aid. Unfortunately the data for Thiruvallur was collected by a range of resources – the Village Panchayat leaders, affected persons, Village Administrative Officers (VAO), and Tahsildars and Revenue Divisional Officers (RDO) – and were not compiled in the same way the data from the other two districts were compiled.

Below are additional observations recorded by the survey team:

- In Chennai many Tsunami-affected people who were living on rented property did not receive complete compensation, whereas the landlords, who were not affected directly, have received the complete relief amount granted by the government.
- In Thiruvallur the survey team noted that the Government provided more relief in Meenavar villages vs. non-Meenavar, Dalit communities. Furthermore, the Meenavars have been found to discriminate against the Irulars.
- Occasionally relief materials are robbed and as a result do not reach the Tsunami-affected and eligible people.
- People residing in the roadsides have been seen taking possession of all the relief material without giving anything to affected people living in the interior regions.
- The Kuppams refuse to identify themselves on the basis of their caste due to political discrimination.
- Corruption in the construction of temporary shelters is possible as many shelters observed were worth only Rs.2,000-3,500 whereas the Government has allocated Rs.8,000 per each temporary shelter.

Cuddalore

Fifty-one Tsunami-affected villages were identified by PWTN in Cuddalore, while 33 villages were identified in Villupuram. Forty-five of the 51 villages were surveyed in Cuddalore (88% coverage), and 17 of the 33 were surveyed in Villupuram (52% coverage).

Although most of the people received relief such as food and clothing, many require assistance with replacing fishing nets and repairing damaged boats. In addition many students (of both Government and private schools) have not received their school-related relief, and in many villages in Villupuram temporary shelters have not been put up and if put up – have not been completed (i.e. no floors, electricity, drinking water and toilet facilities).

The survey team recorded discrimination and exclusion in a total of 9 of the 84 surveyed villages in the zone (11%). Discrimination and exclusion were based on caste (in 7 villages), occupation (4 villages), and affiliation with a political party (1 village). Some villages suffered from more than one type of discrimination or exclusion.

In Cuddalore 690 families were eligible for relief funds but did not receive them, whereas in Villupuram 101 families and 14 widows were eligible for relief. As with Chennai zone most of these people were eligible for Rs.2,000-4,000 relief. The information above was based on information collected from conversations with and documents provided by village leaders, local government representatives, youth organizations, and representatives of women self help groups.

Below are additional observations recorded by the survey team:

- In this zone Irular (Scheduled Tribes) communities have not only been excluded from the Government relief but are also subject to caste-based atrocities by the fishermen community.
- Those who received treatment at private hospitals had not received relief.

Nagapattinam

Sixty-three Tsunami-affected villages were identified by PWTN in Nagapattinam and all 63 of these villages were surveyed (100% coverage). Discrimination or exclusion was seen in 10 of the 63 villages (16%), resulting in 491 eligible families who did not receive relief. Discrimination or exclusion was based on caste, religion and occupation: relief camps were set up on the basis of caste; minorities, Dalits and other backward communities were delayed relief; Muslims, who compose only 6% of the local population, have not received relief; compensation and loans have not been given to fishermen who have come from other places to the affected area for livelihood. This data was based on documents, statements of affected persons, Government officials, and survey team observations.

Kanniyakumari

Thirty-six Tsunami-affected villages were identified by PWTN in Kanniyakumari, 21 villages were identified in Thirunelveli, and 37 villages were identified in Thoothukudi. All 36 of the villages in Kanniyakumari were surveyed (100% coverage), 12 of the 21 were surveyed in Thirunelveli (57% coverage), and 34 of the 37 were surveyed in Thoothukudi (92% coverage).

Discrimination and exclusion on the basis of caste, occupation, religion, age (old age), personal status (widow), physical disability, availability of ID and ration cards, and politics (affiliation with a political party) were widespread in both Thirunelveli and Thoothukudi. The survey team recorded discrimination and exclusion in 8 of the 12 surveyed villages in Thirunelveli (72%), and in 30 of the 34 surveyed villages in Thoothukudi (88%). Although not as common, discrimination and exclusion on the basis of caste, religion, economic status, and political affiliation was observed in 4 of the 36 surveyed villages in Kanniyakumari (11%).

In Kanniyakumari and Thirunelveli a total of 587 families (424 and 163 respectively) were eligible for relief funds between Rs.2,000-4,000 but did not receive them. In addition, 126 students were identified in Thirunelveli who did not receive notebooks and other aid. The most astounding figures were found in Thoothukudi where 1,169 families, 45 widows, 9 physically disabled, and 39 persons of old age were all eligible for relief funds between Rs.2,000-4,000 but did not receive them. An additional 540 students did not receive notebooks and other aid.

The list of people suffering from discrimination and exclusion was confirmed by speaking and interacting directly with the persons affected and then comparing those names to the names provided by the Government list (in Kanniyakumari) or speaking to the village leaders (in Thirunelveli and Thoothukudi). Two of the villages in Thirunelveli and three of the villages in Thoothukudi could not be confirmed due to one of the following reasons: the victims were not available to meet in person, the village leaders were not available to meet in person, or the reliability of the list provided by the village leaders was questionable.

Below are additional observations recorded by the survey team:

- The Rs.100,000 compensation has not been given for persons who are missing in this district.
- Temporary shelters were not adequately constructed, are in bad condition, and cannot withstand even three hours of rain.
- In Thoothukudi temporary shelters were given to those who did not need them as opposed to those who did need them.
- In Thoothukudi officials belonging to Dalit communities are afraid of registering names of affected Dalits if their higher officials belong to other castes. On the other hand, if people belonging to dominant castes are in positions of power they purposefully subject the Dalits to exclusion.
- In Thoothukudi Village Administration Officials (VAOs) and Revenue Inspectors (RIs) have been distributing relief tokens at lower sums and making a profit over the difference.
- In Thirunelveli the Pavars have prevented relief from being given to Dalits.

Discussion

This study identified a total of 7,797 people who were affected by the Tsunami and eligible for relief, but were discriminated against or excluded from relief. All those listed in this report (see Appendix) should benefit from the relief and the compensation provided to those affected by the Tsunami. Peoples Watch believes that the inclusion in state relief of all those listed in this report is not only the Government's responsibility but also its obligation to the people.

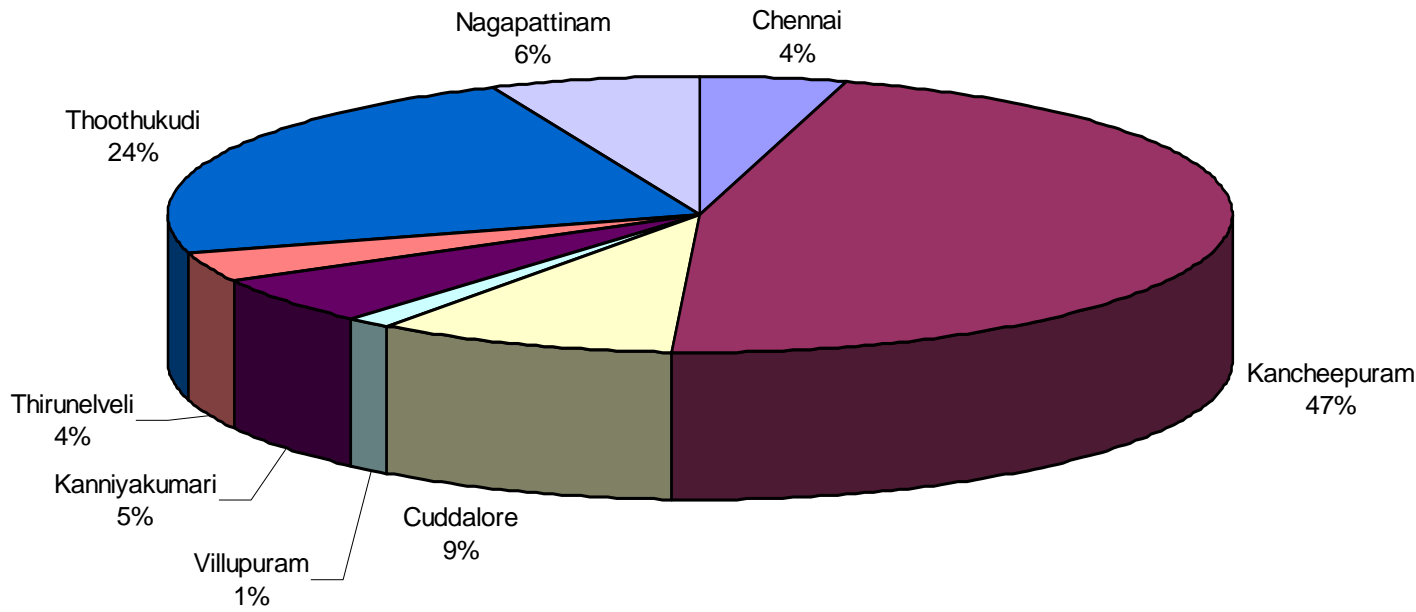

Of all the people found to be discriminated or excluded from relief, almost half (47%) of all those identified were from Kancheepuram, while almost a quarter more (24%) were from Thoothukudi. Because not all districts participated in this study and specific names were not available for all districts it is estimated that the survey team did not identify all those eligible for relief, and that there are many more people who are eligible for relief but have been discriminated or excluded. As such, the numbers below are most probably an underestimate of the reality in the field of those discriminated or excluded from relief.

The table below provides a summary of the number of people discriminated or excluded from relief by district, while the graph on the following page presents the distribution of discrimination or exclusion by district.

Number of People Discriminated / Excluded by District

District	Number of people discriminated / excluded
Chennai	337
Kancheepuram	3,619
Cuddalore	720
Villupuram	115
Kanniyakumari	424
Thirunelveli	289
Thoothukudi	1,802
Nagapattinam	491
TOTAL	7,797

Distribution of Discrimination / Exclusion by District

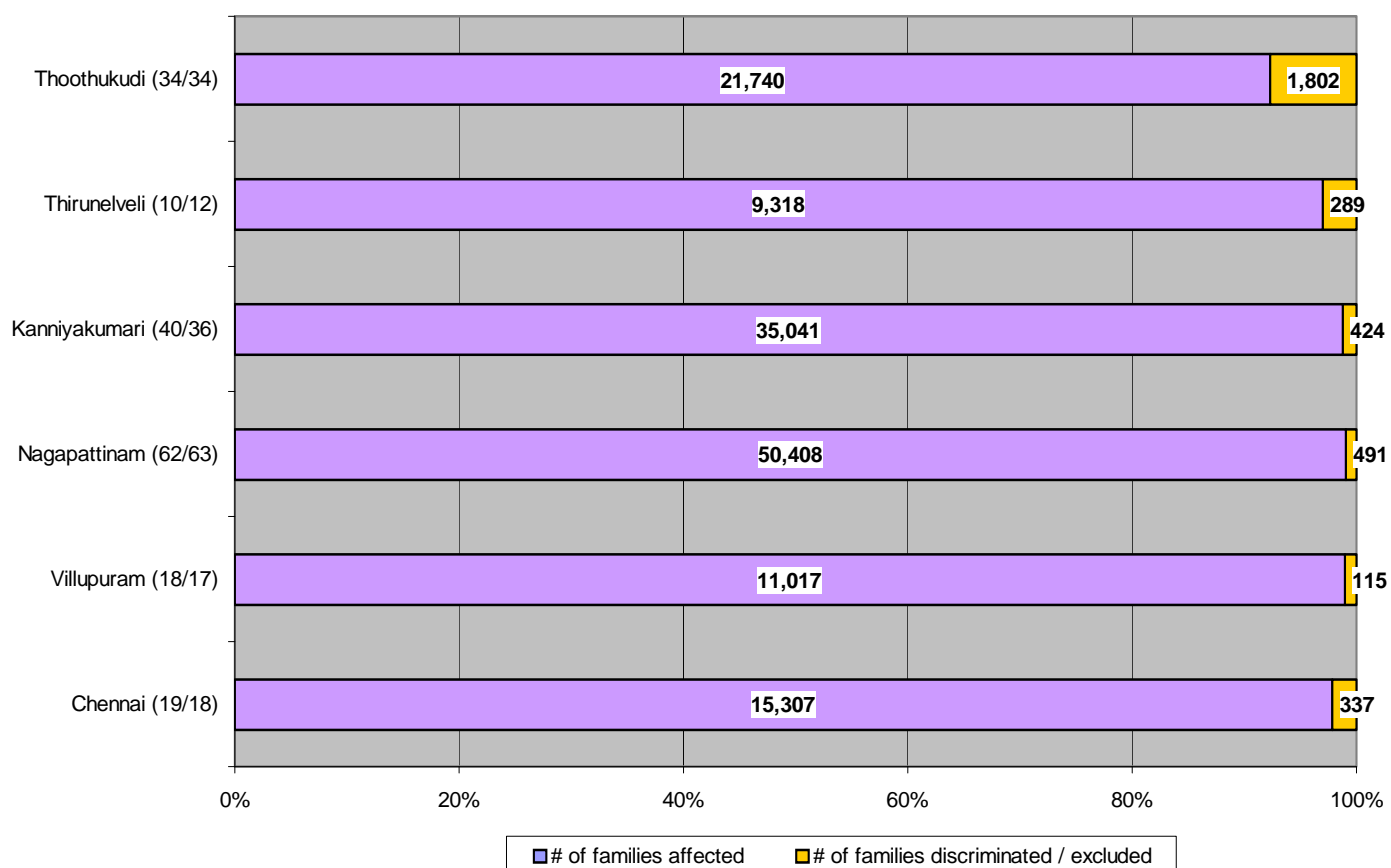

At the same time it is important to determine the percentage of those discriminated or excluded from relief in each district. Although methodologically questionable, each victim in the current Study on Discrimination / Exclusion in State Relief was defined as a “family” in an attempt to compare the number of families discriminated or excluded from relief with the total number of families affected by the Tsunami as identified by the earlier Rapid Impact Assessment. Only districts with similar number of villages were compared, although the villages may not necessarily be identical. The first number in the parenthesis relates to the number of villages assessed in the earlier Rapid Impact Assessment, whereas the second number in the parenthesis relates to the number of villages assessed in the current Study on Discrimination / Exclusion in State Relief.

Comparison between the total number of families affected that received relief vs. those that did not, by district

District	# of families affected ¹	# of families discriminated / excluded ²	% of families discriminated / excluded
Chennai (19/18)	15,307	337	2%
Villupuram (18/17)	11,017	115	1%
Nagapattinam (62/63)	50,408	491	1%
Kanniyakumari (40/36)	35,041	424	1%
Thirunelveli (10/12)	9,318	289	3%
Thoothukudi (34/34)	21,740	1802	8%

Comparison: those who received relief vs. those who did not

¹ Data based on the Rapid Impact Assessment

² Data based on the current Study on Discrimination / Exclusion in State Relief

Both the table and the graph demonstrate that in each district there are people who are eligible for relief but have been discriminated or excluded. Thoothukudi district demonstrated the highest percentage of those who have not received relief.

It is important to note that the following districts were not considered in this analysis:

- Thiruvallur (due to a big difference in the number of villages surveyed in both studies)
- Cuddalore (due to a big difference in the number of villages surveyed in both studies)
- Kancheepuram (as the number of villages surveyed in the current Study on Discrimination / Exclusion in State Relief was not defined)

Different types of discrimination or exclusion were observed based on caste, occupation, religion, age (old age), gender (widows), physical or mental disability, possession of ID and Ration Cards, economic status, and politics (affiliation with a political party). Although it was difficult to quantify the type of discrimination or exclusion in the different districts caste appears to be the most common, followed by religion and occupation. The table below attempts to present the available findings in a visual form:

Type of Discrimination / Exclusion by District

District	Caste	Religion	Occupation	Gender	Age	Physical disability	Economic status	ID and Ration Cards	Politics
Cudallore	Yes (7)		Yes (3)						Yes (1)
Thiruvallur	Yes (6)			Yes (2)
Kanniyakumari	Yes	Yes					Yes		Yes
Tirunelveli	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes				Yes
Thoothukudi	Yes	Yes	Yes			Yes		Yes
Nagapattinam	Yes	Yes

Problems and Experiences Identified by the Study Team

Numerous visits by different people and organizations coupled with a range of unfulfilled promises have created an indifferent and at times a resentful attitude towards the surveyors by the community members and village leaders. This has led to a sense of skepticism, and now some villagers welcome only those outsiders who come to provide them with some sort of relief material.

These expectations to receive benefits from visitors and survey teams have additional implications. It was common to observe many people (affected or non-affected, who received relief or did not receive relief) wanting to sign up thinking that they would receive something. Several villagers purposefully hid facts and gave false data since all of the people, including those who were not affected by the Tsunami, wanted to get relief material and compensation. Moreover, at times it seemed that people tended to exaggerate the sufferings that they underwent. When the VAOs and RDOs were approached they only had a list of people provided by the village leaders but not their own, independent list of persons to whom relief material was supplied.

To complicate matters even more, acquiring a complete list of those affected by the Tsunami was problematical. Because fishermen villages tended to submit lists comprising all the villagers instead of giving details of the specific people affected and the Government did not verify this list, it was very difficult for the survey team to gather data. Since the relief material given to each fishermen colony was shared among all the people there, it was impossible to assess the total relief received by the people.

Occasionally the survey team found it difficult to explain the purpose of the study to community members, the victims found it difficult to answer questions or provide information, while others did not want to provide information. In these cases data collection depended on the village leader. Relying only on the village leaders as the unique source of information was problematic for several reasons. Village leaders who were personally involved in the relief efforts may provide biased information. On the other hand, not all village leaders were acknowledged as “village leaders” by the community members. Moreover, some villages did not have any people regarded as “village leaders”.

Alternative sources of information were the priests, however many times they were unable to provide the required information. Some chose not cooperate with the survey team and refused to meet or provide details and lists of names, while others simply did not possess lists of affected people who had not received relief. At times neither the priests nor the affected people knew the names of the main officials responsible for the relief and rehabilitation work – indicating a gap in information, communication, and logistics between the administration and the field, the guidelines and the needs.

Another issue was the ability to accurately detect caste related discrimination. At times it was difficult to identify and distinguish between the different castes. This was true especially in Chennai where people of all castes reside in the same colony, and also with the Kuppams who suffer from political discrimination.

In terms of logistical difficulties related to data collection, the number of team surveyors was not always sufficient for the number of villages to be visited, thus affecting district coverage. In addition, some villages did not have proper roads and had to be approached using boats. Another element that impeded data collection was the lack of a good means of transportation for long distances as four-wheeler transport was not provided.

Recommendations

1. The Government should conduct a proper needs assessment and provide relief and compensation to all those affected directly and indirectly by the Tsunami without discrimination based on caste, religion, occupation, gender, etc.
2. Villages that were not classified by the Government as Tsunami-affected but were, in fact, affected by the Tsunami should be incorporated into the official list of Tsunami-affected villages and benefit from similar relief and compensation packages.
3. The Government should monitor the distribution of relief to assure that the relief reaches all those found to be affected by the Tsunami and eligible for relief.
4. A reliable assessment method and a clear form of communication among the various levels should have been put in place to gather the names of all those affected by the Tsunami and report those names at the district levels. Because this has not been done, and this study demonstrates that village leaders and priests may not have access to all of the information, it is recommended that district collectors seek information directly from those affected.

5. The Government should provide relief to widows, aged persons, and those physically disabled and injured, and ensure that these vulnerable groups receive this relief.
6. The Government should pay special attention towards providing relief materials for school going children of affected families since government relief has not reached them.
7. The Government should monitor the funds allocated and used for the construction of temporary shelters and take legal actions against those who misused their position and benefited from these funds. Corruption can not and should not be tolerated.
8. The Government should examine the reported instances of bribery – where officials and village officers benefited from distributing relief to selected communities in return for bribes. Bribery can not and should not be tolerated.
9. Peoples Watch should conduct a study on the corruption and bribery that took place in setting up temporary shelter and distributing relief. If corruption and bribery will be found to have taken place, a public litigation case should be filed in the High Court.
10. Representatives of political parties, government officials, voluntary organizations, and human rights activists should be formed to monitor the political-based discrimination.
11. Those who live in rental residencies should be included in relief and compensation.
